- The govt bestows upon uniformed personnel many benefits and unique privileges about which some of us remain unaware. The following slides would attempt to throw light on some of such laws and schemes which provide us with a preferred footing in the society

Service Privileges under the Army Act

Section 29 : IMMUNITY FROM ARREST FOR DEBT

- Section 29 of the Army Act provides that a person subject to the Army Act shall not be arrested under a process issued by the orders of any civil or revenue court. Hence while a civilian can be arrested under a process issued by the above mentioned courts, the same does not apply to Army personnel. There are parallel provisions in the Air Force and Navy Act too

Section 32 : PRIORITY IN LITIGATION

- ❑ Section 32 provides a special privilege which is not usually practically availed of by persons under Military Law.
- ❑ Army personnel prosecuting or defending any suit or other proceeding in a Court of Law can present the leave of absence granted for the said purpose to the respective court and the court shall have to arrange for the hearing and final disposal of the case as far as possible within the period of leave. If this is not so done, the Court shall record the reasons in writing as to why the particular proceedings cannot be completed within the said time period. Though it is difficult to practically expect Courts of Law to dispose cases within period of leave because of the complexity of procedures involved, still the Section provides a guiding principle to Courts to atleast attempt to dispose cases speedily.

- Sections 25 to 33 of the Army Act list out the service privileges available under the Act

TOLL TAX EXEMPTION

- Defence personnel are entitled to toll tax exemption on all roads and bridges in India under the Indian Tolls (Army & Air Force) Act, 1901. The toll exemption is available on private vehicles too irrespective of the fact whether the concerned person is on duty or not. The said orders were passed by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways in 2003 on a case taken up by then Capt Navdeep Singh (TA), Advocate, Punjab & Haryana High Court. The relevant Ministry letter is reproduced below :-

2. The matter was referred to Ministry of Law. Ministry of Law and Justice have indicated that Indian Tolls (Army and Air Force) Act 1901 is a special Act which over-rides general acts such as National Highways Act, 1956 and private vehicles of the officers, soldiers and airmen of regular forces are exempted from paying toll irrespective of whether they are on duty or not.

- Toll exemption granted to defence personnel was recently challenged in the Hon'ble Supreme Court by one Mr Sanjeev Kumar of Chandigarh. The Hon'ble Supreme Court however upheld the provisions of the Indian Tolls (Army & Air Force) Act, 1901, and dismissed the petition thereby endorsing toll exemption entitled to private vehicles of defence personnel. The said orders of dismissal of the said petition were passed on 22 Sept 2006.

ENTERTAINMENT TAX EXEMPTION

- Defence personnel are entitled to entertainment tax exemption in cinemas in most of the States. For example, in Punjab & Haryana, entertainment tax is charged at 30% of the total ticket price. Hence, if a ticket is charged at Rs 100/- then defence personnel are supposed to pay only Rs 70/-. The manner of claiming this exemption however varies from state to state. In Punjab, Haryana, HP and Chandigarh, a form is prescribed under Rule 23 of the Entertainment Duty Rules which can be signed by a Naib Subedar and above and which is to be deposited at the ticket counter of cinemas to claim exemption. In Delhi, no form is to be filled and only the I-card is to be presented at the ticket counter. The flip side however is that in Delhi, the exemption is only allowed to personnel other than commissioned officers while in the northern states it is available to all ranks. Any violation of the said exemption should be reported to the Excise and Taxation Department of the said state.

BENEFITS UNDER THE ARMS ACT

- Govt of India vide notification GSR 991 dated 13 July 1962, had excluded certain personnel of the armed forces from operation of certain provisions of the Arms Act.

- ❑ Armed Forces personnel under the said notification are entitled to hold arms and ammunition provided by the govt or regimental funds for sporting purposes without license. Such personnel have to be issued a pass by their CO for the purpose.
 - ❑ Armed Forces personnel and ex-servicemen are also exempted from paying fee for an Arms license and also the renewal fee for the same.
 - ❑ All such exemptions are explicitly mentioned under the Arms Act & notifications issued under it and details are available with the authorities competent to issue Arms' licenses

PROVISIONS UNDER THE
INDIAN SOLDIERS' LITIGATION
ACT, 1925

- The Act provides for postponement of proceedings under certain conditions and setting aside of ex-parte orders passed against soldiers serving in hard areas. Primarily the Act prevents miscarriage of law vis-à-vis unrepresented soldiers.
 - Detailed provisions of the Act alongwith the prescribed forms under the Act are available in MIML.

PROVISIONS FOR PROPERTY PROTECTION

- ❑ A major problem faced by serving soldiers having property in urban areas is that tenants do not accede to their requests for vacating their premises when required at the time of retirement.
 - ❑ To cater for such situations, most of the states have laws which provide a summary procedure for eviction of unwanted tenants from their premises. Each state has its own law, some examples are :-

- East Punjab Urban Rent Restriction Act, 1949, (Section 13-A)
 - Haryana Urban (Control of Rent & Eviction) Act, 1973 (Section 13-A)
 - Note : The name of Acts and their provisions vary from state to state
